Salvia have purple flowers, but they come in many colors.

Sometimes they're called sage. Which means wise men and butterfly larvae love them.